Hi Gabriel, I appreciate your comment, but let's remember that everyone's learning journey is different! What may seem obvious to you can be challenging for others, especially when dealing with complex subjects. Encouragement and sharing resources or study tips can be more helpful than suggesting someone isn't ready for an exam. Let's aim to create a supportive learning environment where everyone feels valued!

The key words in here are "on-premisses" and "Azure" . So we have the onsite devices and the cloud devices connecting to each other, so it can only be an hybrid setup.
