Correct, but you can merge subscriptions by contacting support and they may make an exception. But you can't merge subscriptions by default so Y/N/Y is correct.

A little misleading. See question 60.

You can't use a Microsoft account, you need an AAD account to manage a subscription.

🗨️ samraw83 2 years, 3 months ago

it says each subscription or any subscription can only be managed by MS account "ONLY" so that's why it is no.

Box 2 - NO

You cannot merge two subscriptions into a single subscription. However, you can move some Azure resources from one subscription to another. You can also transfer ownership of a subscription and change the billing type for a subscription.
