Note: This question is part of a series of questions that present the same scenario. Each question in the series contains a unique solution that might meet the stated goals. Some question sets might have more than one correct solution, while others might not have a correct solution.

After you answer a question in this section, you will NOT be able to return to it. As a result, these questions will not appear in the review screen.

Your company plans to purchase an Azure subscription.

The company's support policy states that the Azure environment must provide an option to access support engineers by phone or email.

You need to recommend which support plan meets the support policy requirement.

Solution: Recommend a Premier support plan.

Does this meet the goal?

A. Yes

B. No

This can be done with standard also, why we need to go for expensive one.

Agreeing with AzureDrew. While having the Standard is the most cost-effective, the question only states if it meets the goal which it does.

I technically does meet the goal. It doesn't specify that is the only goal it needs to meet or if it is the most cost effective.

The question states if it acomplishes the policy and it does, why do they have to ask always about the cheapest option to do something?
