the image is cut-off at bottom, at the end on this Menu list you will see 'Help + Support' listed as a Menu option that's the correct answer

　　Don't think the image is cut off, if you choose 'Dashboard' you will be presented with a 'Service Health' option in the dashboard. I see it in my subscription and I didn't put it there. It's there by default next to 'Marketplace'.
　　Correct answer should be Dashboard.

Today 22.7-24. If I go to Azure Portal, I can go to Dashboard, there I have a button "Service Health" OR I can go to help and support, then I have Service Health. Don't forget many of the comments are many years ago.

I checked in the azure portal there are 2 ways to access service health. 1st) dashboard scroll to the bottom > service health 2nd) Help + support > under support Service health

　　I did notice when you go the first way it doesn't show planned maintenance therefore the answer would be 2nd way.

I wish it were possible to crop and paste "screenshot" images in here, so as to avoid all these confusion and assumptions...

There should be no more argument about this, please!!

Right answer could be.
All Services->Monitor-> Service Health > Planned maintenance.
All Services blade is ALWAYS there. Everything below that is marked as Favorites. Favorite are optional selections and could be different for each individual.

Avoid read other comments, only remember this:
- If you read "Help + Support" and "Dashboard" in the image -> The answer is "Dashboard"
- If you read only "Dashboard" in the image -> The answer is "Dashboard"

If you check this in Azure portal, the shortest path to "Service Health" is "Help + Support", however, it takes to you to the DASHBOARD path (you can see a "Dashboard" link in the top of the page!)

correct is Dashboard!
I just verified it via my Microsoft account on portal.azure.com
when you click to Dashboard, so there is frame Service Health on left down side > Verified it too. Assuming the image it cut off isn't true, it's so confusing for many people also because the top voted answer assumed that too.
