Compliance Manager has moved from the Service Trust Portal to its new location in the Microsoft 365 compliance center https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/microsoft-365/compliance/get-started-with-service-trust-portal?view=o365-worldwide

Yes, Compliance Manager is no longer part of Service Trust. You can access it from Azure Portal.

Microsoft 365 compliance is now called Microsoft Purview
Please, check it out: https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/microsoft-365/compliance/get-started-with-service-trust-portal?view=o365-worldwide

Omg... Service Trust Portal -> Microsoft 365 Compliance Center -> Microsoft Purview. Can Microsoft stop renaming and moving stuff whenever the wind blows?

Answer C
Azure Compliance Documentation:

Refer to Microsoft Azure's compliance documentation. Microsoft provides detailed information on how their services comply with various regulatory standards. You can find this information on the Azure Trust Center or Compliance Manager.

`Selected Answer: D`

I would say it is D. Azure Security Center regulatory compliance blade. The question is asking for YOUR COMPANY'S Azure environment, so you need to check if your environment is in compliance. The Service Trust Portal shows Azure's compliance (not your company's).

https://azure.microsoft.com/en-us/blog/regulatory-compliance-dashboard-in-azure-security-center-now-available/

In the Azure Security Center regulatory compliance blade, you can get an overview of key portions of your compliance posture with respect to a set of supported standards. Currently supported standards are Azure CIS, PCI DSS 3.2, ISO 27001, and SOC TSP.

Same question, is a bit confusing. But since that option is not available Trust Portal will do, I guess.
